Breaking through Barriers

Building a Network for College Access & Success

Since 1995, the Governor's Education Summit™, co-hosted by the Michigan Foundation for Education Leadership and the Education Alliance of Michigan, has worked in collaboration with the Governor's office and the Michigan Department of Education to engage more than 600 participants in discussions about important issues in education.

As referenced in Governor Granholm's State of the State Address this month, Michigan will launch a Michigan College Access Network that will bring together foundations, business and labor organizations, the faith-based community, our K-12 schools and our higher education institutions to get all Michigan students on the path to education after high school.

This new organization - the Michigan College Access Network - will be born at the 2009 Governor's Education Summit™ in April and will make sure every young person in Michigan and their parents know how to plan for, apply for and pay for a college education or technical training.

This is an opportunity you won't want to miss. Be sure to join the hundreds of people interested in improving the education of students across Michigan by attending the 14th Annual Governor's Education Summit™ on Tuesday, April 28th.
