www.visitlisboa.com

LISBON, Portugal

June 17-19, 2013

Technical University of Lisbon
ISEG, School of Economics and Management

Submission Deadline: December 15, 2012

The third conference of the International Network of Business and Management Journals (INBAM) will take place in Lisbon, Portugal, from June 17 to 19, 2013. The Technical University of Lisbon (UTL) will host 18 editors-in-chief from around the world, thus there will be a total of 18 tracks - one for each journal.

INBAM is looking forward to receiving submissions. Please ensure that your paper is appropriate to the journal to which you are submitting.

The Conference

The 3rd INBAM Conference will comprise a total of 18 tracks, one for each journal.

Each journal editor will open the session with an outline of how to present works for publication in his/her journal. Authors will then go on to present the papers chosen for each session.

Full papers covering diverse themes and methodological approaches are welcome. Papers should demonstrate high research quality and reflect the research focus favored by the Conference journals.

One of the aims of the Conference is to select papers, depending on the characteristics of the journal and the quality of the papers, which will constitute a special issue of each of the SSCI journals involved in the 18 tracks.

Each of the 18 tracks (and consequently the special issues) will have coordinators who will be the guest editors of the special issue. Once the Conference has concluded, the guest editors (as well as the editor-in-chief of the journal) for each track will decide which papers are to be recommended for inclusion in the special issues/section of the corresponding publications. Depending on the quality of submissions, the best papers will be published in the special issues of these SSCI journals.

This will make the 2013 Conference and subsequent conferences organized by the Editor Network of the International Network of Business and Management Journals (INBAM) quite unique. The issues/special section will be published in the year after the Conference.

Why you should attend INBAM 2013

The INBAM conference will be a great conference that allows authors:

- i) To present and discuss papers with top researchers;
- ii) To submit their work for consideration to be among the selected papers that will constitute special issues in each of the journals;
- iii) To learn from the journal editors how to be published in their journals;
- iv) To meet other authors, increasing the possibilities of involvement in international research networks.

We look forward to seeing you in Lisbon!

Submission

Original papers should be submitted by December 15, 2012. Those papers that do not reach the required standards of quality and rigor demanded by the journals, in terms of theoretical framework and methodology, will not be accepted for presentation at the Conference. However, during the INBAM Conference, a parallel section will take place, in poster format, devoted to studies already in progress, though not yet in the final stages. In this section, the authors will be gathering suggestions in order to improve their work, or seeking partners willing to collaborate in the research and production of the final paper. Detailed guidelines for poster presentations will be sent with acceptance letters.

All accepted full papers and papers accepted as posters will be present in the conference proceedings (with ISBN).

Each author will be able to submit a maximum of two manuscripts.

A paper may only be submitted to one journal and a conference participant may only be the presenter of two papers across all sessions-tracks.

Full papers should be submitted electronically via the INBAM website 2013.inbam.net to the appropriate journal (see the list below), in accordance with the guidelines of each journal. The entire paper should be created in ONE document in Word format (.DOC or .DOCX). The first page is the title page, showing the full title, author's name, position, affiliation, and present address. Also, include an e-mail address for editorial correspondence. If there is more than one author, please indicate with an asterisk (*) the author who should receive correspondence.

About Lisbon, Portugal

Lisbon is an exciting location, where the wide estuary of the River Tejo (Tagus) meets the Atlantic Ocean. It is one of the world's great historical cities with a mild climate that makes it an ideal year-round destination and increasingly a first-choice venue for international conferences. Lisbon offers an immense variety of tourist attractions, from fairytale palaces in one of Europe's most romantic towns (Sintra), to world-class golf courses, entertainment in Europe's largest casino in Estoril, surfing in Cascais, dolphin-watching in Setúbal, or the spectacular beauty of the Arrábida nature reserve on the Atlantic coast. Lisbon is considered a safe, friendly city for visitors, served by direct flights from the major European and inter-continental airports.
