

MONASH BUSINESS SCHOOL

Applications now open: Monash Business School PhD and Research Fellowship Program

Monash Business School is looking for the best and brightest upcoming research talent to apply for a rare scholarship opportunity.

The Monash Business School PhD and Research Fellowship is a four year program with a three-year PhD component followed by a year-long research fellowship.

Our PhD program enables you to complete independent research under the guidance of leading academics across one of the school's key research themes. It includes coursework and skills training in addition to the delivery of your thesis. Our unique fellowship program also offers post-doctoral employment (subject to the satisfactory completion of the PhD study), enabling you to launch your academic career.

About Monash Business School

Monash Business School is a dynamic and progressive academy delivering the highest quality teaching, learning, scholarship and research. We are one of the world's leading research-intensive business schools, located in one of the most liveable cities in the world.

We are part of Monash University, Australia's largest and most diverse university, and based in Melbourne, one of the world's great cities of higher education. We are among the 1% of business schools in the world to have achieved the elite 'triple crown' accreditation by the three major global business school accreditation bodies – AACSB, EQUIS and AMBA – and the only Group of Eight Australian university to have done so.

Our ambition is to transform business by advancing knowledge and addressing global challenges. We do this by educating the world's future business and societal leaders and by contributing to the development, growth and transformation of local, national and international economies through our research.

Our research agenda

Impact-driven research is pivotal to the business school's purpose. As part of one of Australia's most prestigious research-intensive universities, our ambitious agenda encompasses all business and economics disciplines. Our prolific expertise is divided into three key research themes:

- Health and wellbeing
- Sustainability and development
- Global business

This program gives you the opportunity to undertake rigorous research training across one of these areas, explore some of the world's most pressing intellectual and practical challenges, and launch your research career.
