

ESPP Research Colloquia
Distinguished Guest Lecture and Roundtable

Dr. Edward Topp

Thursday, October 29, 2015

9:30 a.m. Room 106 Kellogg Center

“The environmental dimension of antimicrobial resistance: How important is it, and what to do about it?”

Departments of PSM/Horticulture Fall Seminar Series

Thursday, October 29, 2015

4:10-5:00 p.m.

Rm A149 Plant and Soil Science Building

“Dynamics of antibiotic resistance in crop production systems fertilized with animal or human waste”

Dr. Edward Topp

Principal Research Scientist

Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada

Light refreshments served at 4 p.m.