

WS 403-730 “Women & Change in Developing Countries”

Summer Session Two: 7/5/2016 to 8/18/2016*

This online version of WS 403 focuses on enhancing knowledge, skills and abilities to increase gender equality and women’s empowerment through international development projects in the agriculture and environment sectors.

With successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Analyze significant challenges to gender equity and women’s empowerment through agricultural and natural resource development;
- Apply gender and development theories, frameworks, concepts and tools for data collection and analysis to improve development outcomes;
- Identify key stakeholders and their associated approaches to gender and development; and
- Begin to design appropriate program interventions to address barriers to gender equity in these sectors.

This course counts toward multiple gender and international development specializations, majors & minors: <http://gencen.isp.msu.edu/academics/>.
