

Assistant/Associate Professor of Strategic Management
St. John's University
The Peter J. Tobin College of Business

The Management Department of the Peter J. Tobin College of Business at St. John's University invites applications for a tenure-track position in the area of Strategic Management at the rank of Assistant/Associate professor for fall 2017. Secondary areas that include Entrepreneurship and/or International Business are of interest, and expressed flexibility to teach courses in the area of Organizational Behavior is desirable.

Candidates will have completed all requirements for a Ph.D. from an accredited institution by the time of employment. Preference will be given to candidates with strong communications skills, demonstrated potential for solid research productivity and effective teaching, and collaborative team-building skills. Business experience is a plus. Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate classes in strategic management, and other areas reflecting their expertise that may include entrepreneurship, international business/cross-cultural management, and organizational behavior topics; to publish in national and international journals; and, to be involved in service activities. Responsibilities will include teaching in experiential courses, a high-impact, pedagogical practice that is valued highly at our institution.

Applicants should e-mail their application cover letter along with their C.V. to Ms. Fran Vroulis at: vroulisf@stjohns.edu (preferred); or, mail a paper copy to:

John Angelidis, Ph.D., Chair, Management Department
c/o Fran Vroulis
The Peter J. Tobin College of Business
St. John's University
8000 Utopia Turnpike
Jamaica, NY 11439

Established in 1868, St. John's University is a large, private Catholic University located in New York City with campuses in Queens, Manhattan, Staten Island, and Rome. The University is one of the most diverse universities in the U.S., with students hailing from over 50 countries around the world. The Peter J. Tobin College of Business is AACSB-accredited, a U.N. PRME signatory, and houses the Center for Global Business Stewardship, engaging students and faculty in a variety of global initiatives.