2017 FDIB-MENA CIBER LEAD SPONSORS

FDIB-MENA & East Africa Program

The Faculty Development in International Business (FDIB) - MENA & East Africa program is offered annually by a consortium of CIBER universities. This program, funded in part by the U.S. Department of Education and lead-managed by the CIBER universities of South Carolina, BYU and The George Washington University, focuses on providing participating faculty a unique international study tour opportunity, which will ultimately assist the United States in its international competitiveness via pedagogy, research and business outreach. The objective of the FDIB-MENA/East Africa program is to raise faculty awareness of the economic, political and cultural environments that exist in the Middle East and East Africa today, and, ultimately, to leverage that first-hand awareness into competence and expertise in classrooms and on research campuses throughout the United States.

Miscellaneous Expenses

Participants will be responsible for any and all personal and/or additional expenses not covered by the program fee to include (but not exclusive to) round-trip airfare to Cairo, Egypt and from Kigali, Rwanda; passports; visas; currency exchange fees; internet; phone; lodging incidentals and/or extensions, meals not covered in the program; Value Added Taxes (V.A.T.); appropriate tips; vaccinations/inoculations (if required) and any other voluntary tours or excursions not covered in the program fee.

Required Documents

- PASSPORT with a minimum of six months validity remaining AFTER scheduled completion date of the program and 4-6 blank pages
- TOURIST VISA (EGYPT) - REQUIRED of all US Citizens and obtainable for USD25 at the Cairo Airport (CAI) upon arrival
- TOURIST VISA (RWANDA) - REQUIRED of all US Citizens and obtainable for USD30 at the Kigali Airport (KGL) upon arrival
- RELEASE/ASSUMPTION OF RISK - Available in brochure
