

TEMPORARY WILDLIFE ASSISTANT POSITIONS AVAILABLE
Michigan Department of Natural Resources
Wildlife Division, Southwest Region

Posting Date: Monday, April 1, 2019

Deadline for Response: COB, Monday, April 8, 2019

Location: Lansing Customer Service Center, 4166 Legacy Parkway, Lansing, MI

Employment Dates: May 20, 2019 through September 30, 2018 or 719 hours whichever comes first

Number of Positions: 1

Work Hours: 8:00 am – 4:30 pm, Monday – Friday, hours may vary

Pay Rate: $17.06 per hour

Brief Job Description: This position will focus on waterfowl trapping and banding throughout the southern Lower Peninsula of Michigan and will work under the supervision of the Wildlife Division Bird Banding Program Coordinator. We are looking for individuals that have the ability to work independent of supervision as part of a small team, who will work aggressively to meet banding goals and solve problems, and who can carefully collect and maintain large amounts of data.

Duties involve determining potential banding locations, securing permission to band birds on private and public property, baiting and operating traps, identifying, aging, sexing, banding, and humanely handling waterfowl, maintaining accurate and detailed banding records, maintaining and repairing traps and other equipment, using body gripping and/or live traps to handle potential predation issues, entering banding data into database, and dealing with the public and co-workers in a professional manner.

Duck banding capture techniques will consist of swim-in traps, confusion traps, floating traps, and air cannons. Use of boats and other watercraft may be necessary.

There is no housing available for these positions. However, there are many housing options in the East Lansing area around Michigan State University.
