

Assistant Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor of Biology Ball State University

Ball State University is searching for an Assistant Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor of Biology (contract faculty) position for Mammalogy and Wildlife Biology available for August 2019 through May 2021.

Minimum qualifications: Master's degree in the biological sciences or related field from an accredited college or university.

Candidates for searches must have current authorization to be employed in the U.S. without employer sponsorship.

Preferred qualifications: Earned doctorate in the biological sciences is required for the title of Assistant Teaching Professor; demonstrated teaching ability and/or evidence of scholarly activity; effective written and oral communication skills; commitment to excellence in teaching. Certification from The Wildlife Society as either Associate or Certified Wildlife Biologist.

Apply online at: <http://bsu.peopleadmin.com/postings/17487>. Include the following documents with your application: cover letter and resume addressed to Dr. Kemuel Badger. Although the option to upload copies of transcripts is available in the application, an official, original transcript showing the highest related degree earned is required at time of hire, even if obtained at Ball State University. Additionally, a degree verification will be ordered at time of hire.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will be accepted through July 9, 2019.

Ball State University is located in Muncie, Indiana, approximately 45 miles northeast of Indianapolis. Approximately 21,000 undergraduate and graduate students enroll each year in diverse academic programs on and off campus. Our students come from all Indiana counties, all 50 states and 68 countries to pursue knowledge in seven academic colleges offering 190 undergraduate majors, 130 undergraduate minors, 140 graduate programs and 200 study abroad programs.

The Ball State way is rooted in the Beneficence Pledge – a commitment to excellence in teaching and scholarship, honesty and integrity, social responsibility, gratitude and valuing the intrinsic worth of each member of our community. Ball State students, faculty and staff are empowered in a culture that believes in them and demands they believe in themselves. They are partners in an innovative, immersive approach to education. They are supported by living and learning facilities that enable intellectual curiosity. We graduate scholars who are changing the world, and we've dedicated our University to do the same.

The university offers an excellent wellness program and extensive benefits offerings to include a generous paid time off package and paid parental leave. For further information regarding benefits please visit: <https://cms.bsu.edu/About/AdministrativeOffices/HumanResources/Jobs/Benefits-and-Community/Faculty>

Ball State University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that is strongly and actively committed to diversity within its community. Women, minorities, individuals with disabilities and protected veterans are strongly encouraged to apply. All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status or any other legally protected status.