Dear Professors Huda Khan, Zaheer Khan and Nadia Zahoor:

I am pleased to invite you to serve as guest editors in compiling an issue of International Studies of Management and Organization (ISMO) focusing on “The Role of Meta-organizations in Environmental Sustainability in Emerging Markets.” After distributing your Call for Papers internationally through the journal and by your personal efforts, you should select five to six good papers that focus on a coherent topic, forward them to a double-blind review, edit for content and format, and help the authors refine their papers into journal articles. The submission and handling of the papers will be on the journal's Editorial Manager system. Dr. Khan will be added on the system as Guest Editor to handle communications with the authors. Once you are satisfied with the content and format of the selected papers, please also submit on ISMO's Editorial Manager the Guest Editor Introduction, presenting the issue's logic and content, as well as a Table of Contents. The maximum total word count of an issue is limited to 50,000 words.

As you probably know the mission of ISMO is to make contemporary empirical and theoretical academic contributions in the fields of management and organization. The journal focuses on international and cross-cultural research and it addresses students, scholars, practitioners and decision makers. The international scope of the journal calls for groundbreaking papers that contribute to the advancement of management and organization theory and practice. Single-country studies that contribute to global theories and models of management and organization are considered for publication. You may find more information about ISMO on <https://www.tandfonline.com/action/authorSubmission?show=instructions&journalCode=mimo20> and also consult with a current hard copy of ISMO for the issue's format

ISMO's Associate Editor, Professor Moshe Banai, will support you through the process. Please do not hesitate to ask for information at any stage of the process.

Sincerely,

Abraham Stefanidis, Ph.D.
Editor-in-Chief, International Studies of Management & Organization
