

ENVIRONMENTAL FELLOWS PROGRAM

APPLY NOW!

ABOUT EFP

The Environmental Fellows Program (EFP) at the Yale School of the Environment (YSE), in partnership with the Environmental Grantmakers Association (EGA), is a 12-week summer fellowship opportunity that seeks to diversify the environmental field by cultivating the career aspirations of master's and doctoral students from historically underrepresented groups by connecting students to work opportunities in environmental nonprofits, grantmakers, and government sectors. EFP is looking for future leaders and decision-makers in the rapidly changing fields of conservation, justice, equity, and philanthropy.

ELIGIBILITY

- Current graduate student pursuing degree with environmental focus
- US citizen, permanent resident, DREAMer or DACA

BENEFITS

- $11,000 stipend distributed throughout the summer
- Travel assistance
- Participation at the fall EGA retreat

PROGRAM TIMELINE

- Applications Due by: January 10, 2022
- Notification of Selection: March 10, 2022
- Program Dates: Approximately June 1 - August 31, 2022

I leveraged my experience at a grant making institution to secure an internship with one of the grantees of the foundation I worked for last summer.

- Kayla Hunter, EFP 2018

Contact Us

EFP@yale.edu

Apply at environmentalfellows.yale.edu

Yale SCHOOL OF THE ENVIRONMENT