The Michigan Family Farms Conference is more than just a conference. Year after year, farmers, educators, and food system professionals gather to network, learn, and share resources and experiences. We also come together to celebrate diversity, expand our knowledge of sustainable agriculture, and strengthen the supportive network of farmers that we know is essential for building resilient farms. The Michigan Family Farms Conference offers beginning, small-scale, and culturally diverse farmers a chance to network, learn, and build sustainable family farms. It is an energizing, hands-on event featuring multiple tracks of breakout sessions plus a youth track to engage the whole family.

We are also looking for sponsors and exhibitors to join us at the Michigan Family Farms Conference 2023. If you are interested in being a part of the conference by sharing information about your organization, services, or products, check out the sponsor and exhibitor registration at <https://bit.ly/mffc2023sponsorships> or contact lauren@miffs.org for more information. One of the most valuable aspects of the conference is the networking between workshops and at lunch- it is a great way to learn more about all the knowledgeable service providers that bring so much information to the conference!

For more information or if you have any questions about the event, please don't hesitate to contact us at info@miffs.org or 517-709-8271
