ANNOUNCEMENT

Call for special issue proposals for the International Studies of Management and Organizations

Vijay Pereira

NEOMA Business School, France

The editor-in-chief of the journal, International Studies of Management and Organizations (ISMO), is inviting outline proposals for special issues for the journal to be published in forthcoming issues in 2024 and 2025. At this stage, we are looking to receive outline proposals from individuals or teams of guest editors.

An outline proposal should consist of a description of the topic/focus of the special issue, an indication of why the topic of the special issue is important, and why the International Studies of Management and Organizations (ISMO) is an appropriate outlet for the special issue. The outline proposal should contain information about the guest editor(s), including their institutional affiliation and a brief CV for each guest editor.

Most importantly, the guest editors are requested to read the challenges to the field that were published by the editor-in-chief at the start of his tenure. Please refer to the two editorials by the editor-in-chief, one titled “ISMO: identifying and mapping the past, present and future” available at <https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/00208825.2021.2024119> and two, “Mapping the past, present, and future of ISMO: a scoping review leading to future research objectives” available at <https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/00208825.2022.2104020>. Proposed guest editors should indicate in what way their proposal responds to one or more of these issues.

Outline proposals should be between 800 and 1000 words and should either contain information about potential contributors or a brief outline of how the editors will identify contributors.

The editors will make a first selection and invite selected guest editors to develop a full proposal, which should include titles, abstracts, names of contributors, and an indicative timeline. Final decisions will be made on the basis of full proposals, at which stage agreements with guest editors will be finalized.

Please submit your outline proposal no later than Wednesday, 31st January 2024, to vijay.pereira@neoma-bs.fr and abhishekbahl27@gmail.com, with the subject line “ISMO Special Issue Proposal.”

If you have any questions, please feel free to get in touch with both the Editor-in-Chief Professor Vijay Pereira, and Associate Editor Dr Abhishek Behl on the above emails.
